

Mrs. Utschig and Mrs. Albanese's March Newsletter

"March comes in like a lion.....and goes out like a lamb." Ask your child the meaning of that quote - they will definitely be able to tell you! "Wild Weather" will be one of the topics discussed this month. The students will use new art techniques to complete their thunder and stormy weather crafts.

We will learn many new letters this month - S, T, U, and V. The letter file holders will be filled with stars, tigers, unicorns, and vultures.

100th day will be celebrated on March 4th. The children will dress up as 100 year old people and create projects using the number. 100.

The beginning of the month will bring a birthday celebration. We will wish Dr. Seuss a "Happy Birthday" on March 5th. The children love the Dr. Seuss stories, especially Wacky Wednesday.

During the week of March 10th, the students will be introduced to various community workers. They will have a new appreciation for all the community workers that help them in some way.

Leprechauns will create chaos in our classroom to celebrate St. Patrick's Day! Everyone is invited to wear green on this day - Monday, March 17th. We will go to the gym for recess and return to our classroom to find a big surprise - tables will be moved, the puppet theater will be turned over, and I'm sure we will find tiny green footprints all over the room! The leprechauns usually leave a special St. Patrick's Day treat - green coins (but don't tell the children, yet!) The students will create rainbows, leprechauns and shamrocks!

The number 8 will be reviewed in March and the children will be introduced to number 9. The children will learn how to make a diamond shape and talk about the color, yellow.

Donuts with Dad will be held on Thursday, March 27th.

Let's see if March really does come in like a lion!
