

January Newsletter Room 3 Ms. Sharon and Mrs. Bianco

Dearest Parents,

Happy New Year!!! Hope your holidays were fun spent with friends and family. I hope you enjoyed the Christmas Pageant last month. I know I did - the children did great!

For the month of January, our class will be learning about New Years and the different ways people celebrate. We will also be talking about New Year's resolutions, skills we would want to be better at – being a good friend, eating more vegetables, riding a bike without training wheels, etc.

We will be talking about our grandparents and how special they are in our lives. We will also have Mystery Reader Grandparents Edition this month, which is something to look forward to.

We will also be learning about winter and hibernation. We will discuss the change in weather and the difference of rain and snow as well as animals who hibernate during the cold months.

We will also learn about Martin Luther King who we remember this month, and how he dedicated his life to make sure people are treated equally.

We will also be learning the letters Ll, Mm, Nn, Oo and Pp for this month along with the numbers 11, 12, 13, 14; the colors blue, pink and white and the shapes oval and cone.

In religion, the children will be learning to pray the Lord's Prayer as well as the Hail Mary.

Some of the art projects this month will include self-portraits. We started doing it every other month as they grow in confidence with their fine motor skills. We will also be making a cave for bears to hibernate, penguin arts and crafts, snowflake salt art, and the children will make their own mittens.

Important Dates for January:

Jan 2 Tuesday	School Resumes
Jan 10 Wednesday	Backwards Day Parent Zoom Meeting 7:00pm
Jan 15 Monday	Martin Luther King Day NO SCHOOL
